PANAMA CANAL IS DISCUSSED

Washington Hears More Of This Proposed Waterway Just At Present Time

WHAT HAS NOT BEEN DONE AS YET

Actual Start Of Operations Appears To Have Been Seriously Delayed--Other Plans Are Being Discussed Just Now.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Well, the everlasting canal question is up again, and if appearances may be trusted there is to be a general shift of opinion as to how it should be constructed. The matter has been under consideration since the days of McKinley, and there have been many and sudden flops. First it was to be constructed through Nicaragua, and congressional committees and the house unanimously so resolved. About that time one Cromwell appeared on the scene, and then the congressional and administrative sentiment just as suddenly and just as mysteriously changed. No one has ever clearly explained just how this change was brought about.

Millions Spent.
Years have elapsed, many millions of dollars have been spent, just how many no one seems to know, and not only is the canal still in embryo, but just how it is to be built is yet undetermined. If one could ever get at the truth it is believed a big chunk of the money that has been expended up to the present time has been practically wasted, or used in paying salaries to men who do little more than junket back and forth to the isthmus, spending by far the most of their time in comfortable and very luxurious quarters here in Washington.

Lock Canal.
Congress, just before it closed its last session declared in favor of a lock canal in preference to a sea-level. The next day Chairman Shonts and

Chief Engineer Stevens shouted that "now dirt will fly in earnest," and the president called the two to the White House and told them he wanted to see results at once; that nothing must now be in the way of digging the ditch.

No Digging.

So far as can be learned the dirt has not been flying much, if any faster than it did before Shonts and Stevens took hold. President Roosevelt originally said the canal must be built by the government, and under the direction of men appointed by the government. Shonts and Stevens told us the canal would be built by the government, notwithstanding many suggestions that if it was ever built at all, it would be best to do it under contract. We were assured the contract system could not and would not be resorted to. Those who advocated the contract plan argued that many millions would be saved and many years of time in getting the canal open to the public, but saving millions of money, and years of time, played no part in the estimation of those appointed to draw salaries.

Contract System.
Now comes Chairman Shonts and Chief Engineer Stevens and informs the president that the contract system is the one that ought to be adopted and that they have been for weeks engaged in preparing the specifications necessary before bids are asked. Costly as it may be, the contract system will surely be as expensive as if the government undertakes to do the work itself.

ONE PLAN TO SAVE MRS. MYERS FAILS

Attorneys Are Denied Writ of Error—One Looptroop for New Trial Now Remains.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 8.—The state supreme court today denied Mrs. Aggie Myers a writ of error to the supreme court of the United States. Her attorneys may now apply to one of the judges of the United States supreme court for such a writ to appoint the case to that court for a review. October twenty-sixth is the date set for Mrs. Myers to be hanged at Liberty, Mo., for the murder of her husband.

BRAKEMAN DIES IN FRIGHTFUL MANNER

Horrible Accident is Reported From Racine This Morning—Happened Sunday Night.

Racine, Oct. 8.—Brakeman Charles King of Milwaukee was killed on the Milwaukee road at midnight, last night, aged thirty-five. He is married and has a family. His head was crushed between the air brakes and the bumpers.

Police at the Depot: City Marshal Appleby and Officers Brown and Fanning were called to the St. Paul depot at 5:10 yesterday afternoon by a telegram giving no particulars or description but stating that three robbers had boarded the train at Milton. It seems that a trio of youthful bad characters asked a stranger what time it was and when he took out his watch snatched it from him and fled. It was learned this morning that they did not board the train in question.

FARM IMPLEMENT MEN WILL GATHER

Manufacturers from Coast to Coast Meet in Chicago Tomorrow—Racine Man Prominent.

The membership extends from Rhode Island to California, though the largest proportion are in the states of the central west. They represent an aggregate annual production exceeding $400,000,000. The object of the association is to secure national and state legislation advancing agricultural interests, and to secure proper freight classification. The convention will close with a banquet Thursday night.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN DRUGS CONVENTION

Thirty-second Annual Meeting Being Held in Washington During the Week.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Leading wholesale druggists from every part of the United States are gathered in Washington for the thirty-second annual convention of their national association, which will be in session here during the remainder of this week. Several matters combine to make the present meeting the most important ever held by the association, and as a consequence the attendance is likewise unusually large and representative. The suit instituted by the federal government to break up the alleged drug trust, the effects of the pure food law which has just become operative upon the drug trade, the crusade in New York for pure drugs and which has now spread throughout the country—these and other matters of equal importance are awaiting consideration by the convention. The president of the association, who will preside over the sessions, is Lucien B. Hall of Cleveland, and the secretary, J. E. Toms of Indianapolis.

FIRE CHIEFS MEET AT DALLAS, TEXAS

Every engine-house in the city has been decorated with flags and bunting in honor of the occasion.

Drove Family Out: Thomas Donahue, suffering with a violent attack of doliolium tremens, drove his family from his home on Chestnut street yesterday. He was taken to the lock-up and spent the night fighting with the horrible creatures of his dreams. Thomas Kelley is also in the lock-up, afflicted with the same disorder in a milder form.

IMPORTANT WORK OF CANADIAN PREMIERS

Provincial Heads in Annual Conference at Ottawa Have Much Business to Transact.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 8.—Much interest attaches to the conference begun here today by the provincial premiers and representatives of the federal government. The conference is holding its sittings in the railway committee room of the senate, where the representatives of the several provinces were formally greeted at the opening today by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on behalf of the Dominion. While the invitation to the conference mentions only rearrangement of the provincial subsidies as a matter for discussion, there is nothing to prevent other subjects from being brought forward. There is considerable speculation as to what will be included in the list of other questions to be considered. Among those most likely to receive attention is the question of agreeing to make no further reductions in the representation of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Then there is the question of apportioning the section of the Northwest Territory about Hudson and James bays, between Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan so as to give each of these provinces access to salt water. There is also the question of jurisdiction of the fisheries and the action of Prince Edward Island and Quebec in taxing commercial travelers from other provinces and countries. The preservation of Niagara Falls and the regulation by the Province of Ontario of companies incorporated and given authority by the Dominion to do business throughout Canada are two other matters which are likely to be discussed.

Burning Of Charcoal In Barn Resulted In Loss Of Five Thousand Pounds Of Leaf.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—The tobacco barn situated on J. M. Bigstaff's farm near Springfield was burned out recently with a loss of 5,000 pounds of tobacco. About $1500 was the total loss in value as the result of the fire, unprotected by insurance. The cause of the fire is attributed to efforts to cure tobacco by burning charcoal.

HALF A THOUSAND CASES FOR COURT

Supreme Justices in Session Again With Large Program Before Them.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—After the summer recess the United States supreme court reconvened today for the October term. On account of the resignation of Justice Brown and the failure to fill his place there is one vacant seat on the bench. The present term promises to be an exceedingly busy one as nearly 500 cases, many of them of more than ordinary importance, are on the docket. No business beyond the admission of new members of the bar was transacted today, in accordance with the custom of devoting the first day's sitting to a call upon the President. The justices doffed their official robes, and, taking carriages, proceeded to the White House, where they were presented formally to President Roosevelt.

COMMISSION WILL SIMPLIFY TARIFFS

Eight Propositions Are Involved in the Contemplated Action of the Body.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today began a hearing to construct rules for the simplification of rate tariffs. Eight propositions are involved in the contemplated action of the commission, and they include the filing of joint tariffs by the initial line; the printing of the schedules of each initial line as an independent document; the filing with the commission by participating lines of general authority to the initial line in their behalf of all tariffs or all joint tariffs of a special kind; the separation of class and commodity rates; the filing of a detailed index showing all commodity rates in effect so that each commodity can be easily located; limiting any classification to ten supplements; the entire classification or tariff to be reprinted where there is any excess; the observance of a uniform order in the compilation of rates; the proper specification in the tariff of the initial line of all terminal charges; the absorption of switching or terminal charges where it affects the total cost to the shipper shall be stated upon the tariff.

ADVERTISING SHOW IMPROVED BY AGE

Second Annual "Publicity" Exposition in Chicago Better Than Last Year's.

As its name indicates, the exhibition is devoted to a display of all kinds of advertising devices and methods calculated to attract business. The exhibitors this year include British, German and French houses, as well as all the leading American firms.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS OF NATION AT CAPITAL

Wisconsin Delegation With Other Middle Westerners Are Supporting Moulton For Commander In Chief.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—With fluttering flags and martial music, the gates of the national capital were thrown open today to greet the delegates and other visitors to the third annual reunion of the United States Spanish War Veterans and the ladies auxiliary of that organization. The early morning trains brought crowds of visitors, and it was early seen that the attendance would be of record-breaking proportions.

Nearly every section of the country is well represented among the visitors. California sent a good-sized delegation and Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, and various states of the south are well represented. After a reception of delegates the veterans met in the armory and were welcomed to the city by Commissioner McFarland. Commander-in-Chief Charles R. Miller of Cleveland then delivered his annual address, reviewing the organization's work of the past year and speaking in congratulatory tones of the progress made. A business session followed at which reports of officers and committees were submitted and others matters of a routine character given attention.

The contest for a successor to Commander-in-Chief Miller becomes warmer as the time for the election of officers draws nearer. The department of New York has endorsed Dr. Hamilton Ward of Buffalo as its candidate. Illinois, Wisconsin and other states of the middle west are supporting the candidacy of Gen. George M. Moulton of Chicago. Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and some of the New England states have joined with the District of Columbia in urging the election of Fred S. Hodgson of this city as commander-in-chief.

Several cities are bidding for the 1907 encampment and reunion, among them New York City, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Buffalo and Richmond.

Tenth Wisconsin Reunion
Tomah, Wis., Oct. 8.—In observance of the 44th anniversary of the battle of Perryville, in which engagement they played a conspicuous part, the surviving veterans of the Tenth Wisconsin volunteers are rounding up here today for a three-days reunion. It is proposed that the survivors shall contribute, written recollections of the battle, the contributions to be filed with the Wisconsin State Historical society.

GROWING LIST OF A LONG LIST OF ACCIDENTS NOW

Five Serious Mishaps In A Few Months--New Ships Always Safe From Sinking, However, Even When Punctured Below The Water Line.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 6.—Strong measures will be taken by the Navy Department to prevent the recurrence of warship accidents such as have occurred altogether too often in recent months. In January two of the battleships starting for the maneuvers off Cuba collided and were laid up for repairs; Norfolk was next the scene of a collision between two torpedo boats, in which one barely escaped sinking. Then the Rhode Island got into trouble again, and her captain has been suspended from duty for six months for grounding his vessel off the Virginia coast last May. The collision between the Alabama and the Illinois off Newport was an even more serious affair. Two of the officers of the Alabama have been recommended for court martial. Lastly, the grounding of the cruiser Boston off the coast of Washington has still further added to the list of accidents already too long.

These mishaps have centered attention on the means of safety with which all new United States battleships are provided in the form of electrically operated power doors. An ex-naval officer, who is thoroughly familiar with this subject, says: "It is practically impossible to carry out the collision quarters drill in a really effective manner and close all watertight doors and hatches within a safe period of time. With 'Long Arm' electrical power doors the means and method of avoiding a catastrophe are entirely different. When the ship enters a dangerous locality the officer of the deck closes all the doors from the bridge by means of the emergency station, connected with motors on each floor by electrical conductors. He knows that the doors have responded by the glowing of the indicator lamps at the station."

The whole operation means that the ship is made safe in time; that the bulkhead doors vital to her safety can always be closed and the ship rendered unsinkable. The Victoria-Campdown disaster could not be duplicated with any of our new ships, for the reason that their commanders always have at hand a means of closing the bulkhead doors without regard to what the crew may do."

Before The Footlights.

The opening act for tonight's performance at the Regal Grand by the Regal Stock Co. who are booked for the entire week except Thursday, will be the beautiful southern melodrama, "The Land of the Sun," written by Beaumont Newhall. The scenes are laid down in the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina, and the new, beautiful scenery used in this production was especially painted for this particular play. The story of a moon-sinner's love, the many contentions met with by the schemes of a villain and his ultimate ascendancy to a seat in congress, and the winning of his love, who turns out to be a wealthy heiress, is narrated by artists in a pathetic, humorous and interesting manner. The climax is reached at the end of the second act, when the calculated concentration is thrown upon the thrilling climax of death caecation. So true to life is the strong acting that one almost realizes themselves in old North Carolina. Ladies will be admitted free tonight with one thirty-cent reserved seat ticket.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, October 3, 1866—Rowdies on Our Streets.—A knock down.—A man named Hanson Gilbertson, lost on Saturday evening last, a watch of considerable value which no suspected some drunken rowdies know the whereabouts of. A friend of his, Henry Meyers, in assisting him to find it, met with rough treatment at the hands of these bullies. They induced Meyers to cross the street with them, when one of the party struck him a ugly blow between the eyes, knocking him down. Last evening a couple of ladies walking along in company with two gentlemen, on West Milwaukee street, were stopped on the walk by a drunken dealer.

These exhibitions of drunken rowdies are, altogether too frequent, and are becoming more and more so. We can expect little else however, when poor whiskey flows so freely as it does in our city at the present time.

Heavy Robbery at Fort Atkinson.—On Saturday night, the store of Messrs. Wilcox, Harvey & Co., was entered by burglars. The safe opened by means of a chisel and crowbar.

AMERICAN TROOPS LANDED IN HAVANA

FIRST CONTINGENT OF SOLDIERS IS UNDER CANVAS.

WORK OF DISARMAMENT

Former Rebels and Volunteers, Disinclined to Surrender Their Weapons, May Be Compelled to Obey Order.

Havana, Oct. 8.—The first landing of American soldiers in the present occupation of Cuba was accomplished Sunday with marvelous promptness, and 500 men of the Fifth United States Infantry and 350 men of the Second battalion of engineers are settled under canvas in Camp Columbia. The cruiser Brooklyn arrived here in the afternoon with 400 men on board, who were sent out to the camp early Monday morning.

Gen. Frederick Funston established his headquarters at Maricao, convenient to his command. Col. L. W. T. Waller, commanding the marines, has been ordered to report to Gen. Funston, and the entire force of regulars and marines will be under Funston's command until the arrival here of Gen. J. Franklin Bell, who will direct the distribution of the forces throughout the island.

Within an hour from the time that the transport Sumner came alongside the railroad wharf the disembarking had been completed and the 850 men had been transported on street cars direct to the camp. Their equipment and supplies were taken on freight cars by another route. The movement was so skillfully handled that the men prepared their midday meal from their own rations. The men are in good condition and are pleased with their camp and its pleasant surroundings.

May Force Men to Disarm.

The disarming of former insurgents went on much better Sunday. Reports from members of the disarmament commission in various provinces indicate that the trouble, which was threatened Saturday may be avoided, although ex-rebels and volunteers in a few towns in Santa Clara province are still disinclined to be the first to disarm, and it is feared that American soldiers will have to be sent to back up the demands of the disarmament commission. Havana, Santiago, Pinar del Rio, Matanzas and Puerto Principe provinces are practically clear of rebels and show no signs of trouble.

Gov. Taft, Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and Gen. Funston are gratified at the situation and believe that the difficulties in Santa Clara province will be overcome in a few days. So confident are they that Gov. Taft and Mr. Bacon say they will be able to start for home next Saturday. Gov. Taft will spend the time after Tuesday in familiarizing his successor, Charles E. Magoon, with the situation. Mr. Magoon is expected here on that day. It is believed that after the arrival in Havana of the wives of Gov. Taft and Mr. Bacon, the provisional governor will give a public reception at the palace to introduce Mr. Magoon to the people.

Cubans in Love Feast.

The moderates and ex-rebels in Pinar del Rio are preparing a love feast. Senor Calnes, a wealthy independent, is to give a dinner to the leaders of the two forces recently at war.

Gen. Pina Guerra, who arrived in Santa Clara City Saturday night to disperse his men, was met by Gov. Soberado, a moderate, and together the two men drove through the city. They are working in harmony in inducing the ex-insurgents to return to their homes.

The rebels on the north coast, however, are reported still to be rather active. Havana province is fully pacified, with the exception of two commands of about 100 men each, under two brothers of Gen. del Castillo, who are encamped near Guirica.

Quiet in Santiago.

Commander Culver, of the Cruiser Des Moines, which is stationed at Santiago, reported that both the volunteers and ex-rebels at Banes and Manzanillo had been disbanded and that as far as he knew the entire province was quiet.

Gov. Taft, however, learned of slight trouble at Guantanamo, occasioned by the demands of liberals that the mayor of that place be removed. This Gov. Taft declined emphatically, declaring that he would not set a precedent which might compel him to consider similar demands from all parts of the island.

Dispatches received from Sancti Spiritus, where the Santa Clara commission is working, indicate that the ex-rebels in that province are not yet entirely reconciled to disarmament, and Gen. Machado has reported that volunteers fired on a rebel camp, causing the serious drawback to the operations.

Gov. Nunez and American Consul General Steinhard were sent by Gov. Taft to Alquizar, Havana province, to settle a difficulty arising from two men claiming the post of mayor of that town. Senor Molineda, a liberal, was elected to the office, but he took to the woods at the beginning of the revolution, and Gov. Nunez appointed a man named Bazan to be military mayor. Molineda returned and claimed the office. Gov. Taft and Gov. Nunez held a conference and decided to recognize Molineda's claim. Bazan will be removed.

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

The healthy color of the skin is given to it by the millions of little red corpuscles in the blood. These are the carriers of nourishment, health and strength to all parts of the body—in other words the very life of the blood. When the germs of Malaria get into this vital fluid they destroy these corpuscles and rob the blood of its rich, life-sustaining qualities, rendering it thin, weak and watery and unable to supply the system with the needed strength to resist disease. Then the symptoms of Malaria such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, a general "let down" condition of the system, and perhaps chills and slight fever, show that this insidious disease is gradually affecting the entire health. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and the medicine to accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all impure, unhealthy matter, but it rides the system of Malaria, and restores the blood to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. S., besides removing the germs of Malaria, builds up and gives tone and vigor to the entire system by its fine tonic effects. Malaria is a blood disease, and S. S. S. cures it because it is a perfect blood purifier. Book on the blood and any medical advice without charge.

It is the custom of the Khonds in the Madras presidency of India to offer a buffalo in sacrifice in substitution for the human victim. ### Origin of Bride Cake.

Bride cake is a relic of the Roman confarreates, a mode of marriage practiced by the highest class in Rome. In confarreatio the bride was led to the altar by bachelors, but conducted home by married men, and the ceremony took place in the presence of ten witnesses by the Pontifex Maximus, whereupon the contracting parties mutually partook of a cake made of salt, water and flour.

Railway Construction.

In the six months ended June 30, 1907, 20 miles of new railway track was laid in this country, a greater amount of new construction than in any corresponding six months in the last 15 years, except in 1902, when new construction aggregated 2,314 miles.

Dimensions of Raindrops.

A meteorologist has undertaken the laborious task of measuring the dimensions of raindrops. He finds that the largest are about one-sixth of an inch and the smallest one-seventh hundredth of an inch in diameter. They are larger in summer than in winter and larger in hot than in cold climates. The size of the drop when it reaches the earth depends on the height from which it has fallen.

THE COUNTRY ROAD

Some years ago there was a stretch of country road half a mile east of Emerald Grove which nature had covered with gravel and which could not possibly be improved by plow or scraper.

One hot morning in July a gentleman and his wife were driving through to Delavan. A heavy rain the night before had made the roads sticky and the buggy was a heavy load for the tired horses. When they passed the "Grove" the man said to his wife: "Well, there's a half mile of good road just ahead and it will seem good to get out of the mud."

But they were doomed to disappointment; for when they reached the top of the hill they looked down upon a stretch of quagmire that was almost impassable for the busy farmer had been working out his poll tax with plow and scraper and the road had vanished from sight.

At the foot of the hill they met a farmer. The man in the buggy stopped his horse to rest, and said to the man from the rural district, "I wonder who the pathmaster of this town is?" To which the man replied, "Why, I am the pathmaster." "Well," said the traveler, "I won't spoil a story for acquaintance sake. What possessed you to ruin this good piece of road?" "Oh," he replied, "the boys had to work out their poll tax, you know."

That's about the size of it, and while the poll tax today goes into a common fund it is used with about the same degree of intelligence which prevailed twenty years ago. Any man who has occasion to drive or ride through the country knows what a piece of newly-worked road means.

The old pathmaster is known today as the road commissioner, but the title is the only thing which has changed. This is not the fault of the men; for they are good men, doing the best they know, but it is the fault of the system, or rather the lack of system.

Road-building is an art which requires years of experience to master. The $42,000 spent by the county for repairing roads should be spent in building roads under state supervision and this is just what the good roads movement now being agitated accomplishes. It has been done in thirty-eight states, and it can be done in Wisconsin. Don't fail to attend the convention and learn how it can be done.

THE COUNCIL

In dealing with the interurban franchise the fact is generally understood that four members of the council—Aldermen Buchholz, Connell, Fish and Watt—voted favorably on what is known as the Clough proposition. While the other six refused to endorse it, and insisted on a new franchise prepared by Mr. Burpee. This policy was adopted and finally carried out in spite of the fact that Mr. Clough had said most emphatically that he could accept no franchise not prepared by his own attorneys.

Since the meeting last Monday night public sentiment has crystallized and the small minority who were talking against the Clough franchise now think that the council made a mistake; for they realize that the city needs the road.

The six aldermen also realize that public sentiment favored a more liberal policy than they felt warranted in adopting, and two of them, Aldermen Brockhaus and Rudolph, have joined hands with the four original supporters and signed an agreement to vote with them for the Clough measure with such minor amendments as he may accept, and which have already been outlined.

An effort is being made by petition to convince Alderman Merritt that his first ward constituency want him to favor the measure, and there is no doubt that his name will be added to the list.

It is to be regretted that the council can not be induced to act as a unit on the proposition, although votes enough have been secured to settle the question at the next regular meeting one week from tonight.

The serious problem which now confronts the city is not the prospective action of the council, but whether Mr. Clough and the syndicate which he represents can be induced to re-enter the field. The money market has tightened up perceptibly during the past two weeks and while there will be no panic, yet the scarcity of currency may be felt for months to come. It is to be hoped that the golden opportunity is still open and that the city will be able to profit by it.

LE ROY'S CANDIDACY

It is safe to assume that the next state legislature will be republican. It is also safe to say that the lower house will elect a republican speaker to succeed Irvine Lenroot, the late would-be dictator of state politics. In view of these facts, numerous candidates have sprung up throughout the state for the position, prominent among them being Edward LeRoy, a Marinette newspaper man and a member of the legislature for the past two sessions. It is a matter of pride in the newspaper profession that the Gazette endorses LeRoy's candidacy. Not only pride in the profession, but with a feeling that the gentleman from Marinette, would make a most excellent speaker. He has had experience and was known throughout the last legislature as a fair and square member who stood for what he thought right and best for the interests of the state and the constituents he represented. Should LeRoy be elected speaker it would not only be an honor conferred upon him, but upon the profession he represents. All hail to Speaker Edward LeRoy of Marinette.

FAST SERVICE

The Milwaukee Journal has advanced the idea that with a good fast train between Janesville and Milwaukee over the St. Paul road, leaving this city at seven-thirty and arriving in Milwaukee at nine-thirty and leaving the Cream City at six-thirty or eight in the evening, would do much to cement friendship and business interests of the two cities. The idea is a good one. Janesville is at present a Chicago town. Fast trains make excellent connections between this city and the Illinois metropolis and the runs to Milwaukee are few, far between and slow. With a good service, on either the North-Western or St. Paul roads, state pride might do much to bring the two cities into closer connection. The proposed train leaving here at seven-thirty and arriving in Milwaukee shortly after nine with the return time fixed sometime in the evening would be a step towards closer relations between the two cities and would be much appreciated by Janesville people, who at present avoid Milwaukee because of the slow, tedious run. A parlor car has been suggested as an adjunct of this train and this would add to its comfort greatly. It is to be hoped the railroads will consider this matter seriously and give Janesville better railroad connections with Milwaukee.

Rock county has spent nearly half a million dollars on roads during the past ten years with but mighty little to show for it. The same money intelligently invested would have given the county at least 500 miles of boulevard. Time to reform.

It is surprising how unanimous everybody has become for the interurban franchise. Men who have been kicking out in the open and men who have backbitten the enterprise in the dark are all in line. What a cheap thing talk is anyway.

McGovern has decided to run independent for district attorney of Milwaukee county. Not satisfied with the verdict of the primary law he proposes to appeal the case and ask the people to reverse judgment. Some people never know when they are beat.

The aldermen are supposed to ignore ward boundary lines and act for the city when dealing with questions of public interest. An interurban franchise is a different proposition than building a sidewalk or repairing a street.

The city of Ashland had 20,000 people ten years ago. Today it has less than 12,000. That's the way a town grows when it gets started the wrong way. Janesville is hanging in the balance and dangerously near to the down grade.

The kind of advertising that the town has had for the past two weeks is worse than a smallpox scare. It is time to wake up and counteract the tide.

The state has long needed a good roads organization and now while opportunity presents every man should lend a helping hand.

Bryan is to invade the state, commencing at Janesville. Democracy should cheer up. It might be worse.

If we can't have an interurban road

let's invest a little energy on good wagon roads.

PRESS COMMENT.

Chance for the "Hans." Exchange: Now that "The Jungle" is to be dramatized, it should give a fine opportunity for ham actors.

Aldermanic Valuation in Elgin. Chicago News: An Elgin automobilist has been fined $1.00 for running over an alderman. That is cheap enough.

Phenomenon is But Transitory. Milwaukee Sentinel: Janesville bids fair to become famous for having more boys than girls enrolled in its public schools.

Royal Good Fellow, Perhaps. Milwaukee News: Vice President Fairbanks has laid a corner stone at Denver. Fairbanks is fast becoming the country's Prince of Wales.

Wanted Money for the Junk. Exchange: Possibly Cuban soldiers do not want to lay down their arms because they think Uncle Sam ought to offer to buy them at $1.50 each.

Mad at August Aldermen! Oh, My! La Crosse Chronicle: The Chronicle cannot remember the time when it has been much in favor with the "pin-heads of the common council."

Meaning Bear? La Crosse Chronicle: La Crosse has some facilities for the entertainment of a saengerfest that are not surpassed on this continent.

A Sharp Instrument. Green Bay Gazette: The Wisconsin sugar beet raiser is a pretty good piece of cutlery with which to cut freight rates.

Men Will be in Receptive Mood. Chicago News: Miss Eleanor Smith says the way to win men to the cause of woman suffrage is by flattery. There are plenty of men who do not care how soon the kind words begin.

Mellow Sunshine Lingers Regardless. Racine Journal: There has been no sonorous blast from Senator La Follette endorsing the republican state ticket and platform and yet the mellow fall sunshine cheers up the state.

Patriotic Bluster. La Crosse Tribune: If the new delivery companies are wise they will find by their canvas that La Crosse is the second city in Wisconsin, and that Milwaukee is really not much in the lead.

Howells' Praise-worthy Moderation. Chicago Record-Herald: "Certain of our women wrong and mine and whiffle and whiffy," says W. D. Howells. Let us thank Mr. Howells for the moderation of his language. He might have said they snored.

If the "if" is Fulfilled. Milwaukee Journal: It is announced that the women are to wear all sorts of finery in their hats this winter. The men will not care what sort of finery there is on the hat so long as there is a peach under it.

Not "Choice" but Expressive. Sheboygan Journal: When President Roosevelt saw the jackies on the battleship Missouri hit the bulls' eye he shouted, "Bully! That's Great!" which language is not a quotation from the declaration of independence, but everybody knows what it means.

Octopus—a New Submarine. Exchange: One's rather surprised to see a statement in the papers that the government has launched an Octopus, until reminded this is the name of a new submarine boat intended for use in the navy.

Green Bay Impatient With Us. Green Bay Gazette: The proposed Janesville-Madison line has once more fallen through. This will not give promoters another opportunity, to disassociate it, a feat which they have been accomplishing with regularity for several years.

Land Fraud King to Write. Exchange: From his cell in the county jail, Portland Ore., S. A. D. Fisher, king of the Oregon land fraud operations, is to tell in book form the story of his part in the looting of the public domain, covering a period of fully a quarter of a century all over the Pacific coast.

Where the Dove Flutters. Stoughton Hub: It really looks as though the dove of peace is hovering over the G. O. P. in Wisconsin, but what a fluttering the old bird does make when she swishes into the atmosphere of Milwaukee's two morning dailies.

"Tom Sawyer" a Saloonkeeper. Chicago Tribune: The death of the original Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" brings out the fact that he had been for twenty-five years of his life, a saloonkeeper. Probably some more public library managers will exclude "Tom Sawyer" from their shelves now.

Small Change Gratefully Accepted. La Crosse Chronicle: The democratic congressional committee, which asked for dollar contributions at the outset for the campaign, now announces that anybody who will send a quarter may sit in the game. The present exigency has points of similarity the world over.

In and About Appleton. Neenah Times: The Appleton Post asserts that the moon will get full twice in October. One was last night and the other will be on October 21. A Clayton man, in town today, who heard of this phenomenon, said that if he had his usual luck he would beat October by the score of 10 to 2.

Wants Bower City Wired in. Evansville Review: The city council of Janesville turned down the Clough electric road franchise, on account of the freight clause therein. The road will not be built, and the rural towns through which it was intended to pass, are now left in the cold. Better put a wire fence around that inland port.

deeply agitated. The progressive or growing men want it badly, while those citizens whose are done—who live in the past and have nothing to hope for from the future—oppose the project.

The Hands He is Really in. Oshkosh Northwestern: District Attorney McGovern of Milwaukee has yielded to the manufactured demands that he run as an independent candidate to succeed himself, and shyly announces he is in the hands of his friends. When the campaign is over, however, he will probably find that his action in reality placed him in the hands of his enemies.

Bryan and Rock County. Beloit Free Press: William Jennings Bryan is to speak in Janesville on the morning of Oct. 17, and later in the day at Madison and Watertown. Probably if anything or anybody can prolong the life of Rock county's moral and democratic it is Mr. Bryan. That is, if it is not already dead, as has been suspected the past three or four years.

Ego in Jerome's Cosmos. El Paso Herald: William Travers Jerome announces his intention of campaigning for the republican nomination up there in New York, and people announce their intention and willingness to travel miles to see William Travers talking in favor of somebody else. Jerome is a very bright man, but there is a deal of ego in his cosmos, as Kipling would say.

Janesville's Improved Council. Janesville Press: With a proposed interurban railway running through the great tobacco and beet sugar section of the state, the Janesville common council refuses to grant a franchise to it, to enable it to bring these products to the doors of its two most important industries, the packing houses and the sugar factory, and thus encourage and stimulate its greater production and proportionately greater prosperity of the farmers of Rock county and the citizens of Janesville. Well, well, there are none so blind as those who won't see.

To Make Good with Good Roads. Racine Journal: There is no stronger or better plank in the republican state platform than that which calls upon the legislature for the enactment of laws providing for good roads.

The Fool and the Gun. Sheboygan Journal: The Fool with a Loaded Gun is abroad again. This time his victim is Dr. F. H. Conover, a young physician, who had stepped from his door to try and quiet a chattering party of which the Fool and his Fool Friends were members. What makes the shooting of Dr. Conover all the more like criminal carelessness is the fact that the Fool with the Gun was apparently celebrating a wedding with a gun loaded with shot. Blank cartridges would have been had enough. It is said that the Fool and his Fool Friends even had fired charges of small shot into the caves of the house where the newly married couple were spending their honeymoon. It will be a disgrace to the Marinette county officials if the Fool responsible for Dr. Conover's death is allowed to go free before a searching investigation has been made and the exact quality of his guilt is known.

An Apostle of Discontent. El Paso Herald: Hearst proposes to see if there are enough sore-headed men to elect him first governor of New York and then president of the United States. For it is only to the sore-headed, to the chronic cases who are socialists, to the discontented men, to the jealous men and to the faultfinders that his candidacy appeals. He has no new ideas to propose, he has no principles to expound, he has no nation, he has no religion, he has no motto, he has no remedies for social ills to suggest—his whole stock in trade is a peevish complaint at those who are richer than their fellows, whether their wealth be due to industry or graft, a wholesale condemnation of corporations, railroads and big business generally.

FREIGHT BUSINESS

BECOMING HEAVIER

Annual Winter's Rush Has Started—North-Western Road Had Many Trains Stopped Yesterday.

As winter approaches the freight business on all railroads increases. Already the annual rush has commenced and the yards of both the St. Paul and North-Western companies in this city are filled at all times. The North-Western yards were all but blocked yesterday and today and something of the volume of business can be known from the fact that there was on an average a southbound train leaving here every forty-five minutes. For two months the Janesville yards will present particularly busy scenes for added to the through traffic is the extra business with beet. Many cars are received each day by both companies and from now on for a few weeks the number will steadily increase.

DARING ROBBERY WAS ATTEMPTED

JOSEPH MILLER, HEED ON THE CHARGE OF CRIME.

SHE AWOKE JUST IN TIME

Mrs. Maggie Buggs, Daughter of David Lawrence, Felt Man's Hands on Her Face.

Awaking from a sound slumber sometime after the Saturday midnight hour, Mrs. Maggie Buggs realized with indescribable horror that a rough hand rested upon her face. She suppressed a cry and when the hand was removed for a moment she spoke gently to her sister, Miss Esther Lawrence, who shares her room, telling her she was sick and asking her to get up and turn on the light. As the latter started to do so she stepped on a pair of human feet that were just being drawn under the bed. The next moment the household had been aroused by the cries of both young women, the lights were on, and a man of medium stature had sprung from his hiding place and darted out the bedroom door. He was followed by David Lawrence and other members of the household coming up to see what might be the trouble and gaining the front door disappeared in the darkness. Mrs. Buggs went into hysterics and a physician who was called in was unable to quiet her until six o'clock in the morning.

Incident of Early Evening

Mrs. Buggs and Miss Lawrence live at the home of their father, 213 West Bluff street. Michael Tesky, a baker at the Bonin & Lane establishment, is a boarder. He went to Rockford, Saturday afternoon and, as it was afterwards learned, did not return until yesterday. It transpires that a new employee by the name of Joseph Miller, who came here two weeks ago from Milwaukee and was given employment at the bakery, had visited Tesky in his room on one or two occasions. About eleven o'clock Saturday evening, while Richard McKone was calling at the house, foot steps and the sound of striking matches were heard in the hallway. As the light was dimmed by electricity, the use of matches was deemed singular, particularly when the supposed boarder came out of the room and descended the stairs again, again striking a light in this manner. One of the ladies remarked that Mr. Tesky knew where the button was and it was strange that he should be using matches. At her suggestion Mr. McKone went out on the porch to see if the supposed boarder was still there. He found him strolling about the premises and asked him what he wanted. The latter replied that he was the boarder. "You don't suppose I'd come in if I didn't room here, do you?" Mr. McKone, not being acquainted with Tesky, was reassured and his reported conversation dispelled all doubts. Not long thereafter the caller departed and the family retired.

Joe Miller Arrested

The description Mrs. Buggs and Mr. McKone were able to give yesterday resulted in the arrest of Joseph Miller. He is a clean-shaven, unkempt and unprepossessing looking individual with a short upper lip, projecting angular jaw, and a shock of reddish hair. Mrs. Buggs positively identified him this morning as the man who had been in her bedroom and Mr. McKone as the man whom he addressed out in front of the Lawrence house Saturday night. In municipal court this afternoon Miller stoutly protested his innocence. He waived examination and his trial was set for Wednesday, October 24, at 10 a. m. Bail was placed at $300 and being unable to furnish the same he was taken to the county jail. He said that his mother lived in Chicago, but was not in circumstances which would enable her to be of any assistance to him. The court will probably have to appoint an attorney to defend him.

H. W. BLISS HOME UNDER ESPIONAGE

Of Two of Henry Ulrich's Friends
Saturday Night—Result is a New Charge Against His Wife and Her Former Husband.

Henry Ulrich of the town of Janesville has again entered a serious complaint against his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Ulrich, and Horatio W. Bliss, from whom she was divorced several years ago, leaving the children in his care. His first charge, alleging lascivious conduct, was referred about a fortnight ago. Bliss was to have been examined today. Mrs. Ulrich had her examination on Saturday. There was found to be insufficient evidence to hold her for trial and the case was dismissed.

Espionage on Bliss Home

Events alleged to have transpired at the Bliss home that very evening are the basis of the new and more serious charge which brought the two parties into municipal court this morning. John Lohnstein and Herman Shaver of Lebanon are the two principal witnesses and they claim to have made a trip overland in the interest of Mr. Ulrich and to have acquired certain damaging evidence in the light of the moon by peering through a bedroom window. Lohnstein testified on the witness stand this morning and his evidence was corroborated by Shaver this afternoon. District Attorney J. L. Fisher represents the state; H. L. Maxfield, Mr. Bliss; Marshall Richardson, Mrs. Ulrich; and Ryan & Oestreich, Mr. Ulrich. A large gallery of spectators is watching the proceedings. The bail of the two defendants was this noon fixed at $500. They were released on their own recognizance during the noon hour.

Damages Suit to Follow

Papers were to have been served on Bliss this afternoon in a civil action for $3,000 damages for the alleged abduction of his wife's affections, brought against the said defendant by Henry Ulrich. Ryan & Oestreich have the case in hand. The plaintiff alleges that he and his wife had lived happily together since 1903 until about the 7th of September last when the wife left him and went to live at the Bliss home. On the 17th of September he further alleges, he went to the Bliss home to seek an interview with his wife and endeavor to persuade her to return; that he was denied this interview; and that Bliss shot at him and threatened to kill him.

JANESVILLE DEATH BENEFITS UNPAID

Status of Affairs of A. O. U. W. Here and in Other Cities Has Brought Receiver for Order.

After sailing toward the rocks of financial ruin for the past several years the Wisconsin Branch of the Ancient Order of United Workmen has struck and the result of the once prosperous order promises to fall in pieces, losing thousands of dollars to policyholders. A receiver, Max Ascher of Milwaukee, has been appointed to take charge of the order's affairs. There are unpaid death benefits aggregating $90,000 and assets of only $25,000. Among these unpaid benefits are two of one thousand dollars each in Janesville.

The cause of the embarrassment is a falling off in the membership, the number of deaths increases. The company started many years ago with cheap rates. These sufficed to pay all claims for many years, but during the past few the original members have been dying in numbers. The claims increased and it was necessary to raise the rates. One raise has followed another and the result has been that few new members have been taken in and many old ones have dropped out. Consequently the assessments have not totaled enough to pay the claims. Since the first of the year none have been paid and a final raise in rates was made last September. The dropping out of members was greater than ever before and lodges all over have gone out of existence. The Janesville lodge once had four hundred members, but this number has decreased to so few that it was necessary a few weeks ago to give up their lodge rooms.

If the receivership proceedings in Milwaukee terminate the affairs of the Wisconsin branch members who desire to remain in the order may transfer to the National Supreme lodge. In other states the order is very strong and prosperous.

GYPSY OUTFIT THAT DID THE BUSINESS

Traveling Man Lost His Ten and All for Thirty Cents, Too—Got It Back.

Last week a wandering tribe of gypsies paid Janesville a visit. This little colony traveled with two wagons of gaily covered pattern and three or four dilapidated ones. They had numerous horses in all stages of condition and evidently did business as traders where they could. The women were gaily gowned and had bright colors predominant. A Milwaukee traveling man was tempted by a maiden of uncertain age to give him a good fortune. It was a simple method, but he laughed and bit. First he gave the girl a dime in silver to cross her palm with. Then she tied a knot in her handkerchief with the ten inside and asked for ten more. This was also tied in another knot of the handkerchief and a few words of mystic language said. Ten more was asked for and more trying and more mystic words. Then the traveling man's handkerchief was asked for and he was asked to place a bill on it. "You have big bill put it there. Better luck. Better luck then, I tie it." The girl was told to be quick and a ten-dollar bill was placed in the handkerchief and he was told to hold tight while it was tied. More mystic words followed and then his fortune began. He would marry a blonde lady with lots of money. (He was married). He would have two children (He has three), and, lastly, he would have great luck if he put the handkerchief in his pocket without untying it until sundown. In fact, the maiden was so insistent on this subject she placed it there herself. But the traveling man wanted to use it a second later and took it out and inside was a piece of paper—not ten. A quick hunt found the maiden telling another fortune in the same way. The Milwaukee man got his ten back, but he spent it all trying to make his friends promise to keep quiet.

The Layton Company, Packers, Muskego, avenue, foot of Thirteenth street, City—Gentlemen: It affords me great pleasure to say to you that my recent visit to your establishment has demonstrated to me the possibility of keeping a packing house in perfect sanitary condition by the use of soap and water and the exercise of judgment and care in the supervision of the various departments found in such an establishment.

I have no criticism to make. The only objectionable feature in your establishment you yourself called my attention to and informed me you contemplated changing. I refer to platforms in curing room.

New Champions Will Not Depend Entirely on Veterans In 1907.

Young Players to Strengthen Team—Headwork of the Murphysites.

Manager Chance of the Chicago National league champions for 1906 says that he is not going to repeat the mistake made by McGraw of New York this year of depending entirely on his veterans to win the pennant for him again next year. The Chicago manager intends to obviate, as far as possible, the difficulties encountered by the Giants this year by having a supply of good men to take the places of any of the stars who meet with accident or sickness.

"You can never tell what is going to happen in baseball," said President Murphy of Chicago, "and we have already invested about $10,000 in new talent for next year. Accidents and the unexpected must be provided against in baseball; and for that reason the management of the Chicago club deems it good policy to invest some of its surplus profits in promising youngsters."

"We paid $2,000 for the release of Osborne of the Canton club, who is the leading batsman of the Central league. Bland Dunbar, the Joplin (Mo.) pitcher, cost us $1,000. He is said to be the most promising twirler in the Missouri Valley league. We also bought two right handed pitchers named Burdette and Chennault from the Vincennes club of the 'Kitty' league. We bought a catcher named Seabaugh from the Springfield (Mo.) team."

In speaking of the present rather than the future, President Murphy, as

The Roundup By Willie West

He Tells a Baseball Yarn and Touches on Other Topics.

Considerable talk has been heard of late regarding the doubtful lack of able fighters and wrestlers in England. Both these historic pastimes seem to have been greatly neglected in the "right little isle" of late years.

The only able heavy fighter Britain has developed in a score of years was Charley Mitchell, and Charley fought largely with conversation and newspaper interviews. Yet he always showed up finely in training. The way he would knock down, spindly shanked, knockkneed, hollow chested sparring partners was wonderful.

Charley's pet "gag" has been described to be as follows: He would hire four or five "two dollar a day pugs," take them to his gymnasium and wrap their heads, arms and shoulders with nice, clean white bandages. Then he would lay them around on the floor and whisper to his manager, "Now let the reporters come in."

Then Charley would wipe imaginary perspiration from his brow, and as the scribbles entered would be heard to murmur half audibly, as though to himself, "Poor lads—clever, fast and strong, but I seem to use them up pretty quickly." (Grows now heard from two or three of the victims.) "Yes, it's a tough game for the lads, big strong fellows though they are. I guess I'll have to ease up a bit on them."

Turning, Charley would discover the reporters, quite by accident, and apologize for delaying them, and later they would depart to spread abroad the news about the terrible, horrible man killer.

A rare feat in baseball, a triple play, unassisted, was accomplished by First Baseman Murch of the Manchester club of the New England league in a game with New Bedford, recently. Murch caught a fly from a batter and, after putting out a player who had been on first base, rushed to second base and caught a runner attempting to return from third.

Mahanoy City, Pa., has a pitching marvel. Striking out forty-six batsmen in two games he pitched the performance of John Wolfe, eighteen years old, pitcher for the Lost Creek Athletics. On a recent Sunday he struck out twenty-five men, allowing only one hit, and that a home run, the only run of the game. In a later game he struck out twenty-one batsmen, allowed one hit, and again lost the game through the erratic work of his team mates.

A big point is made of the fact that Joe Gang gave his word to a San Francisco man not to fake. It really is a thing worth mentioning when Gang keeps a promise like that.

It was an ideal afternoon to sit in the sun scorched bleachers at the ball game and rootfully shout, and, timidly as a result of the loss of Young and Fraser, following the report that Bateman, center, will not be allowed to play football by his parents. Bateman played his first year at the position last fall, succeeding to the shoes of the giant Hazelwood. He would have been a most valuable man this year. Burroughs, the husky weight handler, is the most likely man left for the middle position.

At the University of Chicago the fact that the great quarterback, Walter Eckersall, will again be in the lineup has caused much enthusiasm to prevail. The new rules favor swiftly running quarterbacks, and Eckersall is expected to eclipse all his former brilliant exploits.

The University of Iowa has begun its football work, and the indications are that a strong aggregation of candidates will be had.

The list will be shy Captain McGowan and the barred captain elect, "German" Schwinn, now a graduate. Tappert, Seidel, Narumand, possibly Fritzell, Captain Chalmers, Allen, Davis, Jordan and Murphy, halfbacks, will return, and at guard three old men will be seen—Washburn, Albright and Rockwood. Kent and Bemis will try for quarter, as will Fritzell, if he comes back.

The 1905 freshmen team was unusually strong, and from that bunch may be selected such excellent players as Captain "Chick" Kirk, Carberry, a man picked as an all western freshman end; Hastings, a center of promise; tackles like Knowlton, Bruggeman, Frorrey and Morrison, and guards to be selected from Elliott, McFadden and Peck. Griffith, the third of his name at Iowa, will try for quarter, and there will be numerous freshmen halves—Miller, McDonald, Collins, Johnson and Cobb.

In some respects football will not be changed this year. It will still have eleven men on each side, and the shape of the ball remains the same.

An Attractive Schedule of Games for University of Minnesota.

Eckersall Back at Chicago: Illinois Gossip—Iowa Outlook.

Despite the football reform movement, the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis has arranged for five good championship games. By many the schedule is considered the best which the Gophers have had for years.

With the exception of the big game with Chicago, Nov. 10, all the games will be played on the home grounds. The season opens Oct. 27 with the Ames game. The following Saturday brings the strong team from Nebraska. On Nov. 17 the Carlisle Indians will appear. This game should furnish a means of comparing Minnesota with eastern colleges. The final game of the year comes Nov. 24 with Coach Sheldon's team, representing the University of Indiana.

With such a schedule as the above the Minnesota enthusiasts cannot complain.

Heretofore Dr. Williams has been rather slow in bringing his team to top notch condition, and hard games in the early part of the season have shown Minnesota to be undeveloped.

Coach Williams will have a hard task to fill the vacancies in his team. Of the veterans there will be six of last season's regulars back. The center position probably will fall to Bandon or Safford. Both men played last year and with that experience should become star players. Vita and Dan Smith are both expected to return and brace up the center position on either side. Brush will be missed at right tackle, and it is doubtful whether Case can become eligible in time to be with the squad.

Itiner should make a good record at left tackle. He is a powerful man upon offense as well as defense. Bob Marshall, the colored boy who was picked for the "all western" end, will again be in the game. The other end position must be filled by a new man.

Of late gloom has pervaded the University of Illinois camp, already blue

NEGRO WHO SHOT TWO MEN TAKEN TO ATLANTA.

Mob Succeeded in Breaking Into Jail, But was Foiled in Attempt to Hold Hanging Bee.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 8.—Quiet reigns in this city and no further trouble is anticipated. The negro who shot Adams and Solomon Saturday night was sent to Atlanta Sunday afternoon for safekeeping. The military is held in readiness in case of emergency. The mob succeeded in breaking into the jail at a late hour Saturday night, but the negro had been placed in the barracks under heavy military guard.

Two white men charged with murder escaped during the excitement, but were captured Sunday. Adams and Solomon are in the hospital. Physicians cannot determine how seriously they are wounded.

The negro Fews, who did the shooting, was wounded, but will recover. Another negro was shot through the leg at the jail while the attack was being made on the prison.

Green and Gaylor, two federal prisoners convicted of fraud in the Savannah harbor expenditures, were in the jail while the mob hammered at the iron doors, and after effecting an entrance the noted prisoners mingled with the enraged crowd in perfect composure. No further trouble can occur, as crowds are not permitted to assemble.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—The negro Fews, who did the shooting which resulted in a mob storming the Macon jail Saturday night, was brought here and placed in the negro hospital of the Fulton county jail. His wounds are not considered serious.

MISSOURI RIVER BOAT STARTS

Initial Trip in Effort to Reopen Navigation on Big Muddy.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The steamboat Thomas H. Benton, Capt. Alexander Stewart, departed Sunday for Kansas City on its first trip in the Missouri River Packet company's newly inaugurated schedule between St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Benton will travel only in daylight, and is expected to reach Kansas City next Thursday.

The boat was heavily laden and ten regular landings for more freight are on the schedule.

The boat is running under the auspices of the Kansas City Commercial club, which fostered the movement for the reopening of the Missouri river navigation.

CHECK LYCHING AT MACON

NEGRO WHO SHOT TWO MEN TAKEN TO ATLANTA.

Mob Succeeded in Breaking Into Jail, But was Foiled in Attempt to Hold Hanging Bee.

Macon, Ga., Oct. 8.—Quiet reigns in this city and no further trouble is anticipated. The negro who shot Adams and Solomon Saturday night was sent to Atlanta Sunday afternoon for safekeeping. The military is held in readiness in case of emergency. The mob succeeded in breaking into the jail at a late hour Saturday night, but the negro had been placed in the barracks under heavy military guard.

Two white men charged with murder escaped during the excitement, but were captured Sunday. Adams and Solomon are in the hospital. Physicians cannot determine how seriously they are wounded.

The negro Fews, who did the shooting, was wounded, but will recover. Another negro was shot through the leg at the jail while the attack was being made on the prison.

Green and Gaylor, two federal prisoners convicted of fraud in the Savannah harbor expenditures, were in the jail while the mob hammered at the iron doors, and after effecting an entrance the noted prisoners mingled with the enraged crowd in perfect composure. No further trouble can occur, as crowds are not permitted to assemble.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 8.—The negro Fews, who did the shooting which resulted in a mob storming the Macon jail Saturday night, was brought here and placed in the negro hospital of the Fulton county jail. His wounds are not considered serious.

THE NEW LANGUAGE GROWING IN FAVOR

Its Adoption Urged as the Universal Tongue—International Congress of Esperantists to meet at Jamestown.

(By Silas E. Snyder.)
Do you know Esperanto?
If not you probably will some day for it is the instrument with which scientists propose to batter down the barriers of nations that all men may speak one tongue and be brothers.

It is worth while to give Esperanto serious consideration before it is too late. It is a linguistic structure created according to scientific principles and upon the true, fundamental laws of grammar. It must not be confounded with "Volapuk" which never was practicable and which passed into a deserved oblivion after a brief existence as a fad.

Freshmen entering college this fall may find Esperanto included in the curriculum, before they matriculate as seniors, and if this be realized, the language will be taught in the primary grades of the public schools as is now being done in Switzerland. In American colleges there are already more than fifty Esperanto clubs made up of students and members of the faculty, while all educational societies and journals are devoting thought and space to it. In Europe hundreds of thousands of people speak, write and read it, and at the Esperanto congress held at Boulogne-sur-Mer in 1905 three thousand persons representing fifteen countries attended.

Even Japan has taken it up and its Esperanto association has undertaken a propaganda under the direction of a committee composed of three editors, professors from the imperial universities and high schools, and the secretary of the Japan Foreign Trade association, with the result that a grammar in Japanese character is ready for the press.

By special order the officers of the French army are studying the new language and it is proposed that every government officer of the French nation whether of the army, navy, diplomatic service or other branch shall be able to read, write and speak in Esperanto, as the government sees in it the international medium of official intercourse which is soon to become universal.

Canada, England, Italy, Spain, Russia, Sweden, Belgium, Roumania, Algeria and India all have long ago taken up the study and the most enthusiastic Esperantists are the men who have international business to transact. In Germany trade workers such as lithographers and printers have adopted the language, officially and it will be used in their congresses and conventions.

In Spain the army has adopted it and at Valencia a regular school is kept for instruction in military officers, while at Geneva, in Switzerland, thousands of the population speak Esperanto and delight in it.

Bohemia has sent an Esperanto section to the World's Court Exhibition in London that has attracted great attention in England and the English press is devoting columns of space to its discussion and no word is said except in favor of it as the greatest medium yet discovered for the promotion of the world's fraternity.

At this rate we may soon look for an Esperanto literature, for in Geneva they are singing songs and acting dramas in the new tongue and an Esperanto publication tells its devotees weekly the news of the world and the progress of the language, while Free Masons, Christian Endeavorers and other societies of world wide scope advocate its study for use in the international congress and correspondence.

The study of the creation of Esperanto is extremely interesting. After the failure of Volapuk Dr. Zamenhof, a Russian Savant, took up the study of a universal language, and writing under the name of Esperanto, developed the artificial tongue which has made him famous. He recognized that if a new language was to be made attractive it must be made easy and he first set about constructing a grammar that might be mastered in an hour. He eliminated all rules not absolutely required in the construction of a logical sentence and ignored entirely all exceptions.

His next concern was the vocabulary, for it is the great number of roots, the vast variety of words, that puzzles most the student of a foreign language. As a case in point take the expressions we have in English to set forth the ideas suggested by one conception of death: dead, deadly, to die, mortal, to kill, to murder, suicide, to commit homicide, mortally, etc. Zamenhof rid himself of this great number of roots by selecting one root and by means of a system of prefixes and suffixes he made the one root serve for all others. He compiled a dictionary of two thousand roots selected from the widest known languages and they are so wisely and judiciously chosen that the Esperanto vocabulary is sufficiently extensive for every purpose and its appearance seems familiar to people of every nationality. The employment of the prefixes, which number only half a dozen and the suffixes, of which there are thirty-two, in conjunction with these roots enables the student to extend his vocabulary to the point that the most delicate shades of meaning may be expressed. It follows, therefore, that Esperanto has the advantage over any other language in the facility with which its construction admits of the forming of new words; and in this lies its greatest charm.

Professor J. L. Bergerhoff of the Western Reserve university, Cleveland, Ohio, in a recent communication to the editor of the Atlanta Constitution explains briefly and lucidly the mechanical working of the device for forming words. He says: "To take the word 'death' for example, the key word is 'mort', remembering that in Esperanto all nouns end in 'o', all adjectives in 'a', adverbs in 'e', all infinitives in 'i'; that contraries are formed by prefixing 'mal'; that the prefix 'sen' means without; that the suffix 'ant' marks the agent (corresponding to the English 'ing'), and that the suffix 'ig' means to cause, we get the above root: morto; death; morta, mortal; morti, to die; mortie, mortally; mortamo, the dying man; mortanta, dying; morti to cause death or kill; mortigo, murder; mortiganto, murderer; mortigi, death-dealing; malmorta, living; senmorta, immortal; semorta, immortality, etc."

The conjunction of verbs, which is the great stumbling block in the study of all languages presents no difficulty whatever in Esperanto. In the first place there are no irregular verbs; secondly, there is only one ending for each tense; thirdly the number of tenses is reduced to a minimum mainly past, present, future, and conditionally.

The infinitive of all verbs ends in "i", the present always in "as", the past always in "is", the conditionally always in "us"; these endings are the same in the singular and the plural.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL GOLF TOURNAMENT OPENS AT BOSTON

Fair Chaps: from West and Middle West Go to Meet Easterners in Annual Contest.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Boston, Mass., Oct. 8.—A small army of golfers added gayety and animation to the Brae-Burn club links at West Newton today. It was the opening day of the twelfth annual women's golf championship, the highest golf honors in the United States. The intercity matches last week served as an excellent preliminary to the blue ribbon contest, which will last throughout the present week.

That this year's affair will outshine any of its predecessors seems to be a foregone conclusion. To begin with, the tournament is more truly national in its scope than has been the case in previous years. The entry list includes the best women golfers not only of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, but those of the west are equally well represented. The Chicago clubs have sent their best players and Denver, St. Louis and other cities have added to the list of western representatives.

Leaving the first championship, in 1895, at Meadow Brook—which was not under United States Golf association auspices—out of all calculations, it is interesting to glance over the records of past tournaments. It was at the Morris country links in 1896, when the women first played for the perpetual Robert Cox trophy, that Miss Beatrix Hoyt, entering from Shinnecock, led the field with a score of 95, and eventually won out at match play. In a violent storm at the Essex country club, Manchester, Mass., the following year, Miss Hoyt again led the field in the qualifying round, with 108, and at the Ardley club, in 1898, Miss Hoyt returned a 92 on the first day. The next year the same player led again at the Philadelphia Country club, with 97, while at Shinnecock, in 1900, Miss Hoyt did a 94.

All this time the courses were steadily becoming longer, a fact noticeable the following year at Baltusrol, where four players tied at 97 for low score in the qualification round. At Baltusrol the playing course was about 6,000 yards. The players came to the Country club of Brooklyn in 1902, playing over a much shorter course, which accounts for the 89 made in the stroke competition jointly by Miss Margaret Curtis and Miss Louisa Wells. Without doubt the most meritorious achievement from a scoring point of view was the 94 of Mrs. Caleb F. Fox over the long and difficult Wheaton course in 1903. The following year, at the Merion Cricket club, a much easier course, Miss Louisa Vanderhoof, Miss M. Curtis and Miss Lottie Dod tied on the first day with 93. At the Morris country club last year the honors were carried off by Miss Pauline Macrae of Boston. At that tournament two players made an 87 in the qualifying round. It is predicted that some of the players will be able to make a round of 85 at Brae Burn this week.

Tennessee State Fair
Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 8.—This was the opening day of the Tennessee State fair and it proved one of the best attended opening days in the history of the annual state exhibition. Visitors are already here from every section of the state and more are arriving on every train. Those who visited the exhibition today pronounced it the "biggest and best" ever held here. Every department is well filled with choice exhibits, but the agricultural and live stock displays are worthy of especial note. The amusement and entertainment features are also above the average of former years.

Meeting of Tobacco Men.
Danville, Va., Oct. 2.—A meeting of the Mutual Protective Association of Bright Tobacco Growers of Virginia and North Carolina was held here today with approximately a thousand farmers in attendance. S. C. Adams, the interstate president, called the meeting to order and made a short address as did also State President H. C. Kerns of South Carolina. The meeting consisted principally in receiving and auditing the pledges of farmers who have agreed to place their product in steam prizes and hold the tobacco until they obtain satisfactory prices. By-laws and regulations covering these pledges and the course the association should take were also drawn up and will be submitted to the convention of this association which meets shortly.

Small Blaze This Noon: There was a small blaze under the floor of the boiler room in the plant of the Jamesville Sash & Door company this noon and it was necessary to summon assistance from the west side fire station. One extinguisher was used. The fire is supposed to have started from a torch used by plumbers at work in the shop.

Liverpool Mine: The Liverpool Mine in the western part of the state, the majority of which stock is owned by Jamesville men, will start a hundred-and-fifty-ton mill at Mineral Point next week. George S. Parker is president of the company.

INDIANA SHERIFF TAKES PRISONER TO PENITENTIARY.

Official Prevents Lynching at Bloomington by Cleverly Removing Intended Victim from the City.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 8.—The negro, Edward Jones, who Saturday night shot and killed Alfred Stephens, a lunch wagon man, was safely taken to the Jeffersonville penitentiary early Sunday.

The crowd, which for a time threatened to take Jones from the officers and lynch him, was again in evidence early Sunday morning, and it was only by the determined efforts of the sheriff and his deputies that the excited men surrounding the jail were kept from battering the doors down and entering the place.

About three o'clock in the morning the crowd, which dispersed with much reluctance earlier, returned greatly augmented and again made a determined effort to enter the jail after the negro.

George W. Henley, president of the Henley Stone company, attempted to quiet the crowd, speaking to them from the jail steps. He assured them that the negro, Jones, was not within but had been removed and was on his way to the Jeffersonville penitentiary. Mr. Henley's efforts had no effect upon the excited mob.

Finally a committee of three was selected and made a thorough search of the jail and reported to the crowd outside that Jones was not within. The report of this committee failed to satisfy the demands of the crowd outside, and it was only after another committee made the rounds of the jail and again reported their search was without avail would the excited crowd be quieted. It was only when daylight came that the angry men sullenly departed.

Saturday night, when it became evident to the officials that trouble was imminent, Sheriff South, accompanied by two deputies, hurried the negro Jones from a side entrance of the jail and walked him a mile to the southeast part of the city, where a buggy was secured to drive to Bedford. There Jones was put on a train and taken to Jeffersonville.

Class A Series Likely to Remain Unfinished Owing to Bad Weather.

Columbus, O., Oct. 8.—Buffalo and Columbus played two games in the series for the class A minor league championship Sunday and broke even. This gives Buffalo three and Columbus two games. The agreement was that four victories would be necessary to decide the championship. The Buffalo players left for home and it is improbable that the series will now be finished, as the eastern men are discouraged by the unfavorable weather they have encountered here. Scores: (First game), Buffalo, 3, H. 7, E. 1; Columbus, 1, 5, 3; (second game), Buffalo, 2, 3, 3; Columbus, 3, 6, 2.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Shelbyville Church Worker Found in Bed with Bullet in Brain.

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 8.—Mystery surrounds the death of Mrs. Laura Ayres, 50 years old, a well-known and active church worker of this place who was found dead in bed Sunday morning with a bullet in her brain. The coroner and prosecuting attorney are making a rigid investigation but would make no statement as to what conclusions they had reached.

Charles J. Ayres, the husband of the woman, awoke Mrs. Ayres in the morning and informed her that he believed his wife had shot herself during the night and was dead. Ayres maintains he heard no shot during the night, although he was sleeping in an adjoining room with the door ajar. There were no bruises on the woman's body, but on the forehead where the bullet had entered there were powder marks.
